The Ambassador said he had talked to the Under Secretary of Foreign Relations who had told him that the decision of the President was to give us close cooperation, particularly on matters relating to communism; that the Government would agree to go to the OAS Conference and would agree to action against new shipments.

As regards the text, the Government's experts were working on it and would finish their recommendations tonight. The Foreign Minister will discuss them with the President tomorrow and in all probability the Government will suggest changes. These will be communicated to us through White and through Ambassador Tello here in Washington.
